School Board Studies Plan for Bond Issue

The building committee of the Nevada City Board of School Trustees took preliminary steps in the study of a proposed bond issue for building a new grammar school building and a high school gymnasium and auditorium at the meeting of the board Tuesday evening.

The petition which was circulated in behalf of the high gymnasium a few weeks since had been referred to the building committee, which consists of E. M. Rector, R. J. Bennetts and Arthur W. Hoge. This petition circulated by two students of the high school was signed by majority of the heavy tax payers of the city.

Phil Scadden, secretary of the board states that it is proposed to first ascertain whether Nevada City is still eligible to receive PWA funds for the construction of a new school buildings. It is interesting, in this connection to note that Corning, Placerville, and North Sacramento are now proceeding with school buildings or extensions with funds which have been obtained in this manner.

The PWA is advancing as a gift one third of the bonds issued, and buying the other two thirds at a low rate of interest over a long term of years. Blanks for applying for such funds are now in the hands of the building committee.

At the meeting of the school board Tuesday evening, Mr. Scadden states that no opposition to the bond issue was expressed, but that discussion turned upon the feasibility of the project.

RARE CYPRESS IS FOUND ON TAHOE UKIAH HIGHWAY

By GLEN WRIGHT

Specimens of the Macnab Cypress tree, extremely rare and little known member of the specie Cupressus, mythological guardians of the graves of those who have been greatly beloved in life, have been discovered locally.

The trees were found recently by Leon G. Johnson, Camp Superintendent, Company 914, CCC, Grass Valley. Some were growing along the Tahoe-Ukiah highway, several more on the Ponderosa fire trail, one mile north of the Mattie mine, and others were located about one quarter mile south of the Twin Cities Dance hall, near the Spring Hill mine.

While they are to be found in very widely separated groups in the coast ranges of California from the Siskiyous southward to Napa county, and in the Sierra foothills of Shasta and Yuba county, this cypress is not recorded as prevalent in Nevada county by G. B. Sudworth, U. S. Forest Service Dendrologist, whose "Forest Trees of the Pacific Slope" is often called the "Foresters' Bible.

Low, open crowned, and bushy, this tree is usually twenty feet high, and the largest have only a few feet of clear trunk, ranging from six to twelve inches in diameter. The bark is a deep chocolate brown, tinged with red. The cones are globular in shape, and when mature are about one inch in diameter. The branches subdivide to form flat sprays which are closely covered with small overlapping leaves in four rows.

The wood is of no commercial use, but their ability to thrive on dry thinly covered slopes has made them worthy of consideration by the Forest Service for planting in barren areas.

Four species of cypress, the Monterey, Gowen, Dwarf and Macnab, inhabit the Pacific region, all in California. They are of ancient origin, once inhabiting Iceland and Western Europe, where they are now almost extinct.

P. G. E. SEEKS PERMIT TO WITHDRAW WATER

The Railroad Commission has received an application from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, asking that it be authorized to permit the Nevada Irrigation district to withdraw 750 miner's inches of water from the company's Deer Creek forebay for sale by the district to the Buckhart Investment Company. The water is to be used for mining purposes in the water shed of the Greenhorn Creek tributary to Bear River.

STEAM SHOVELS WORK IN CARSON HILL ORE BODY

MELONES, Feb. 15—Since the Carson Hill Mine was reopened last September, production has been on the increase and costs reduced to a new low for California mining. This mine, considered by old-timers as being through as a producer, due to the then high costs of mining and milling, and the low percentage of metal recovery, is an outstanding example of the cause of the modern gold rush.

The mill is now handling a daily tonnage of 800 tons, an increase over the 600 tons per day maintained until recently. By next month an average monthly tonnage of 20,000 tons is expected, according to company officials.

Charles H. Segerstrom, president of the Carson Hill Gold Mining Co. recently wrote; "The first month of milling, in October, we mined and milled 10,000 tons,, in November 12,-000 tons and in December 14,000 tons, and we estimate that during the month of January we will mine and mill 16,000 tons. You will note each month we are increasing the amount of ore mined and milled, and as stated before, we expect in he next few months to mine and mill at least 20,000 tons unless we are impeded by heavy rains.

Operating costs are probably the lowest operating costs in the state of California, and proves that the predictions made have been carried out, and I am quite certain these costs will be still further reduced as the tonnage is increased, as our overhead and other fixed charges remain constant. We expect to have our operating costs well below $1.50 per ton on full operation."

It is also reported that work on theopen cut is being pushed. This work is being carried on much in the same fashion as ni the Yellow Aster mine near Randsburg, where steam shovels are employed in the open works there.

Musical To Be Given At Lady Jane Manor

A group of Nevada City music lovers have been invited to enjoy an afternoon musical at Lady Jane Manor, home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Robinson next Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock. Soloists will be Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Foote. George Von Hagel, of Sacramento and Marshall Giselman will offer instrumental selections.

J. J. JACKSON GROCERY IS MAKING MANY IMPOVEMENTS

The grocery store of J. J. Jackson, corner of Pine and Commercial Sts., has this week made several much needed improvements on the interior of the building. New shelving has been nistalled, a change made in the office space, and other improvements have been made that will greatly aid the boys in their efforts to render "good service" which is always the aim of J. J.'s establisment.

Al Kelliher and John Figurski, contractors, are building a -head frame for the Chicago mine near Penryn. They will be there several weeks.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR GOLD MINES IS ADVOCATED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15—A resolution urging the removal of all taxes now levied on gold mining was presented for adoption at the second monthly dinner meeting this evening at Wilson's Restaurant by the Sacramento Chapter of the Mining Association of California. This action is in line with a suggestion made at the January meeting by Alden Anderson, president of the Capital National Bank.

Anderson asserted that the continued production of gold is vital to the prosperity of the nation, yet capitalists were deterred from investing in gold mines because of the ruinous taxation imposed on the industry by federal, state, and county authorities. He said the public must be educated on the importance of gold mining and the production of gold must be stimulated, if the value of the new dollar was to be maintained.

Charles L. Gilmore, vice president of the chapter, reported on the congressional progress of the resolution, fathered by the state mining organization, which seeks a NRA appropriation of $100,000,000 for the secondary financing of gold mines. It is proposed to make long term loans to bona fide gold properties for the development of known profitable ore bodies and to provide necessary equipment for mining and milling.

The educational feature of the evening was an address on Elements of Paleontology, by Professor J. E. Vickery, head of the geology department of the Sacramento Junior College, a number of whose students have been attending the recent chapter meetings.

SCOUTS ALL SET FOR "GOOD TURN" NEXT TUESDAY

The Boy Scout Council, meeting Wednesday night, completed plans for assisting the Nevada City troop to do the "good turn" assigned them by President Roosevelt last Saturday.

Horace Curnow, president of the council presided, and Harris Ricksecker, Tahoe Area Executive, was present to give his advice and counsel.

A resolution was passed thanking Lloyd Hiscox and Mr. Jackson for their generous loan of a radio receiving set last Saturday, and installing it, and the Elks club for its kindness in giving lounge room for the purpose of listening to the President's message to the Scouts.

Collection day, in which all those who have clothes, bedding, furniture or food to spare for the use of the needy, will have them ready, was set by the council for Tuesday, February 20.

H. E. Kjorlie was made chairman of the publicity committee, which will issue handbills to be distributed today and tomorrow throughout the city by Boy Scouts, who will be assigned certain districts to cover.

Dick Goyne was named chairman of the storage committee, George Calanan of the truck committee; Carl Tobiasson, inventory committee; Edd Addington, Scoutmaster, was asked to district the city and assign scouts to cover each district.

Clifford Merrian, Cubmaster, kept the minutes of the meeting. Mr. Merriam reports that the organization meeting of Cubs Wednesday, resulted in the enrollment of eleven youngsters. Seven of the boys were former members of the cub pack. The boys are:

Alfred Cortoscelli, B. Lang, Marvin Haddy, Clifford Masterson, Bill Masterson, Arthur Willoughby, Stanley Chatfield, Warren Lystrup, Louis Butz, Bob Carr and Bill Gracie.

The next meeting, will be Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Foresters hall again. At that time preparations will be made for the Boy Scout rally to be held in Roseville Saturday, February 24. The Cubs are alloted a place on the program and are anxious to make one of their excellent exhibitions.

TASKER L. ODDIE TO TAKE OFFICE STARR RESIGNED

It was authoritatively reported in Nevada City yesterday, that Tasker L. Oddie, former governor and former U. S. Senator of Nevada, known throughout the west for his mining activities and interests, had accepted the presidency of the National Mining Association, which George Starr recently resigned. Starr resigned because of pressing private affairs and a desire to tour Europe this Spring.

Oddie is deeply interested in mining in this district, and it is expected that he will take over some important properties here in the near future. He is associated with L. R. Robins of this city.

NATOMAS WILL BUILD DREDGE

SACRAMENTO, FEB. 15—The Natomas Company plans to award contracts soon for the construction of a $375,000 gold dredge for its mining operations near Folsom.

Thomas McCormack, president, states the dredge will be of the same size as the three largest ones now working night and day in the ancient stream beds. It will dig down thirty feet. The hull of the machine will be built in the San Francisco Bay region and, in knock down shape, taken to the dredging field where the machinery, also made in the bay area, will be installed.

McCormack also discloses that the Natomas Company has just acquired 600 acres near Folsom for expanded dredging operations, bringing the recent acquisitions up to 1,200 acres. He estimates the acreage will provide 60,000,000 cubic yards, or sixteen years of work for the new dredge.

THIRTY SEVEN DOGS ENRICH CITY TREASURY

Thirty seven assorted "friends of man" have had their licenses paid and are good dogs, immune from seizure by Chief of Police Garfield Robson for another year. Each of these, happening to be masculine in gender, paid $2.00, so the city treasury has been enriched by canine population, or by means of it, by the handsome sum of $74.00. Chief of Police Robson thinks that when all are recorded, at least sixty dogs will have paid the tax. Females of the species, much more deadly from a financial standpoint, seem to be very scarce. They pay, whenever found, $6.00 per annum.

Mrs. O. Mc Craney, and daughter, Miss Amy Lou McCraney, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Andrews and daughter, Miss Roxana Boggs, and Miss Peggy Bettles motored to Cisco Monday and enjoyed snow sports.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis and son of Sacramento are spending this week in Willow Valley, east of Nevada City. They expect to return to Nome, Alaska in June where they will be interested in gold mining.

J. W. Phelps and J. S. Kramer, of Washington were Nevada City visitors last Tuesday.

Lindbergh's Protest

It will hardly satisfy fair minded men and women to brand Col. Charles Lindbergh, whose message to President Roosevelt regarding abrogation of all air mail contracts within this country, certainly needs a competent answer, as a "publicity hound." The country knows that Col. Lindbergh hates the adulation of his countrymen, hates to see his name in print, hates anything connected with publicity.

We are willing to grant that grave suspicion of corruption rests upon certain of the aviation corporations in regard to the methods and amounts of the mail subsidies they have received. Frankly, we do not like the attitude of certain attorneys, late assistant postmaster generals, and least of all, that of former Postmaster General Brown. Indeed Brown was never a favorite with any public spirited citizen who abominates abuse of public office for party reasons.

But that is a long way from convicting every holder of an airmail contract of corruption without a fair hearing of some kind. The kinship between this action and some of those of Mussolini and Hitler is repugnant to our institutions and to our sense of fairplay.

These airmail carriers were entitled to a full and fair hearing before the Senate investigatigation committee. The American people are perfectly willing to abide by the decision of any properly constituted tribunal, whether of the Senate or the courts, that finds and exposes corruption. They do not care whether the guilty have committed their offences under Republican or Democratic regime. In any case they should be discharged from the trust they have betrayed and punished for their crimes.

But to tar the whole airmail service with same stick, to suddenly cut off a great industry and the best airmail service in the world, which had come to lean upon government subsidy for a part of its necessary income, and this, without an adequate hearing, with no warning, without even an accusation against the majority of the carriers, is certainly a high-handed and un-American proceeding.

We strongly suspect that the President has accepted the advice of "practical" Mr. Farley, the master politician, and of General Johnson, who has already made some very grievous mistakes, in matters of which the President had only a partial knowledge. We believe the Administration has blundered through bad advice.

The ringing challenge of Col. Lindbergh will find an echo in the heart of every right thinking citizen unmoved by partisanship. Furthermore this Presidential order will lay under suspicion every ukase uttered from now on under the emergency powers granted the President.

What the American public should have immediately is a clear concise answer to this appeal of Col. Lindbergh, which, as a matter of fact, was filed with Postmaster General Farley and with the President's office twenty four hours before it was given to the press. Here is Col. Lindbergh's protest, and it is worth reading and thinking about:

"The President, White House, Washington, D. C.

"Your action of yesterday affects fundamentally the industry to which I have devoted the last 12 years of my life. Therefore I respectfully present to you the following consideration:

"The personal and business lives of American citizens have been built up around the right of just trial before conviction. Your order of cancellation of all air mail contracts condemns the largest portion of our commercial aviation without just trial.

"The officers of a number of the organizations affected have not been given the opportunity to a hearing, and improper acts by many companies affected have not been established.

"No one can rightfully object to drastic action being taken, provided the guilt implied is first established, but it is the right of any American individual or organization to receive fair trial.

"Your present action does not discriminate between innocence and guilt, and places no premium on honest business.

"Americans have set their lives in building in this country the finest commercial air lines in the world. The United States today are in the lead in almost every branch of commercial aviation.

"In America we have commercial aircraft, engines, equipment and air lines superior to those of any other country. The greatest part of this progress has been brought about through the air mail. Certainly most individuals in the industry believe that this development has been carried on in co-operation with the existing Government and according to law.

"If this is not the case, it seems the right of the industry and in keeping with American tradition that facts to the contrary be definitely established. Unless these facts leave no alternative, condemnation of commercial aviation by cancellation of all mail contracts and the use of the Army on commercial air lines will unnecessariy and greatly damage all American aviation.

Since the above was written, Postmaster General Farley has written a letter to Senator Black chairman of the Senate investigating committee, in which he voices his suspicion that all holders of Government airmail contracts are corrupt except one. And about that one he is doubtful. His suspicion may or may not be founded in fact. He adduces not one scintilla of proof and his letter is in vivid contrast, in its weakness, with the drastic action he has advised and which the President has taken.

As between Postmaster General Farley and Col. Lindbergh, we would much rather trust Col. Lindbergh.

EDWARD'S CROSSING GRADE MUCH IMPROVED

The CWA project on Edward's Crossing grade has been completed. This strip of road was a one-way passage and the present work has widened the narrowest places to 19 feet. A bad switch back that required trucks to drive up, then back a time or two and carefully creep around the sharp turn, has had a 30 foot bank of rock blasted away and room for four cars abreast was made.

A. H. Haddy, foreman, had a crew of 10 men working on this 1-and-one-fourth miles of bad road.

REOPENING OF YUBA MINE SET FOR SPRING

Harry Morris of Dutch Flat, who is reopening the Yuba mine above Washington, has a small crew at work making repairs for reopening early this spring.

The old shaft is down about 900 feet in the Yuba mine, which has a good past production record.

The new company has also taken options on the Grey Eagle, Lindsay and Mayflower properties that gives them a large acreage on which to operate.

The Grey Eagle and the Lindsay properties produced a good sized quantity of high grade ore in early days.

FRENCH CORRAL OPERATES A CONCENTRATING PLANT

The French Corral mine, near French Corral, under the supervision of Ben Maddox, is making splendid progress in the mine work and development of the property.

Bull-dozers are being used in working the gravel and a small concentrating plant is installed. As the water increases this mine which is now well equipped with dredger and machinery, will go into full production.

Mrs. Brian Krough and daughter, Miss Betty Lou, motored to Livermore and returned with Mr. Krough, who has been in the hospital receiving treatments. He is feeling better and is glad to get home, out of the fog.

Mrs. R. B. Coberly of Yuba City spent yesterday in Nevada City visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edward Rose and husband.

ARGONAUT MINE FILES GOLD SUIT

JACKSON, Feb. 15.—Challenging the constitutionality of the new Banking Act which forces the turning in of gold mined before the price of $20.67 per oz. was abandoned at that price, the Argonaut mine, Jackson, Amador county, has petitioned the federal court to prevent the government from seizing the gold at the arbitrary price.

The Argonaut is holding out 7,171 ounces of gold on Uncle Sam, worth $235,000, the production for May, June and July of last year. They ask that it be considered "newly mined gold" and that they be given the going price of $34.06.

The Argonaut reports a net profit of $91,757 for the last quarter of the year, an earning of 40 cents on their 200, 000 outstanding shares. Since 1893 the company has produced 19 million from the Argonaut.

Steel Floats In Air

This steel ring apparently is defying the law of gravity, but magnetism explains the phenomenon. The ring is of cobalt steel, which has four or five times the magnetic strength of ordinary steel. A second magnetic ring is located in the base of the framework. The two magnets repel each other, which makes the upper one "float" in air, bobbing up and down if slightly disturbed.

TRUE GRIT MINE GOES AFTER RICH CHANNEL

CAMPTONVILLE, Feb. 14.—Although so far this has been a poor season for placer mining, the operators of the True Grit are going ahead prepared to make a good run with the necessary water. The property, owned by John C. Donnelly, leased by George N. MacRae, of San Francisco, and is now being operated by C. F. Humphrey and Norris English of that place. H. C. Smith is the engineer in charge.

Several buildings have been built and considerable flume with several thousand feet of ditch, a new reservor at the conclusion of same. An up to date plant in every way has been put in. Water rights are being taken out from Oregon Creek, Miller Creek, and Brush Creek. The property has a gravel channel of considerable magnitude, virgin ground, and it is held by the old timers as a very rich proposition.

ELKS ENJOY ANOTHER LITTLE PIG BANQUET

The Elks last evening enjoyed another little pig banquet. John W. O'Neill was chairman of the committee which served this excellent dinner. His wide acquaintance with farmers who grow little pigs has won him the chairmanship of these popular dinner meetings of the Elks whenever little pigs form the chief feature of the feast. Little pigs are selected every now and then for this distinction on the humane principle that by this means they are saved from "the big bad wolf." Fred Reid was chef last evening and the things he chose to associate with the pigs struck a new note of gustatory pleasure.

4000 SINGLE MEN IN CWA CAMPS

One of the lesser known activities of CWA is the operation of labor camps for single resident men over 21 years of age. At the present time some 50 of these camps are being operated from the Oregon state line to the Mexican border and are giving employment to over 4000 men who would otherwise be on county relief olls.

These men are doing urgently needed work in conserving California's natural resources. The construction of fire-breaks, the elemination of fire-hazards, reforestation, flood control clearance and cleaning irrigation ditches are an integral part of the camp program.

According to Stuart Moir, Director of Camps, the program aim at more than just the preservation of natural resources. It aims also at the rehabilitation of thousands of men, many of whom have been on relief for months and have suffered the physical and moral impairment that usually accompany "being on relief."

"It is our aim" says Moir, "in the operation of these camps to rehabilitate the men as far as possible and to improve their physical condition, so that when they leave camp they will be stronger in body and spirit and will be ready to face the world with a brighter outlook."

That the state is vitally interested in the continuation of this camp program was evidenced at a meeting recently held in Sacramento attended by state officials and CWA executives. The state has prepared a long list of projects which have been submitted to CWA for approval. If approved, the work of saving men and trees will continue for the duration of the CWA program.

AIR CONDITIONED CARS ON 4 SOU. PAC. TRAINS

Four leading trains of the Southern Pacific Company—the Overland, Golden State, Sunset and Cascade—will add air-conditioned cars to their equipment to provide travel comfort in all kinds of weather.

This announcement was made today by Felix S. McGinnis, vice president in charge of passenger traffic, who stated that no extra fare would be charged as a result of the improvements costing $650,000.

A total of 80 air-conditioned cars, McGinnis said, have been ordered for use on 22 trains required to maintain the daily service of the four fliers, which have San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Chicago and New Orleans as their terminals.

Air-conditioned dinners were added to these trains some time ago, and it is now planned to extend the program to include observation, lounge, club, and Pullman room sleeping cars, it was stated.

The new equipment has been ordered for use during the summer tourist season to give protection against heat, but a definite date for its introduction has not been fixed, the announcement said.

Chamber Supports Yuba Narrows Dam Project

The following resolution was passed by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce at its Monday night meeting in support of the Yuba Narrows Dam project:

WHEREAS, the Federal Government is considering the proposal that a dam be constructed at the Narrows of Yuba River, California; and

WHEREAS, recent investigations by the Army Engineers Corps of the U. S. War Department have shown that the project will be economically sound and in the general public interest; and

WHEREAS, the dam would be highly beneficial to navigation through its capability for storing large amounts of old mining debris, which otherwise would pass downstream and be deposited in the navigable waterways between Sacramento and San Francisco Bay; and

WHEREAS, the storage of such river debris at the dam will save the Federal Government large expenditures which otherwise would have to be made for dredging work in order to maintain navigable depths in the lower channels and bays; and

WHEREAS, the project will provide space for the detention of tailings from hydraulic mining and thus permit revival of this long prostrate industry; and

WHEREAS, the dam will be of incidental service in the production of hydro-electric power and improving the water supply of irrigation developments in Yuba County; and

WHEREAS, the investigations by the War Department show the navigation values, storage fees from hydraulic mining and revenue from the sale of power, will be more than adequate to maintain the dam and repay the construction cost; NOW, Therefore, Be it Resolved, that the Chamber of Commerce of Nevada City urges that immediate appropriation be made by the Public Works Administration for the construction of the project as a unit in the Federal Public Works program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be transmitted to Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, to Hon. Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, and to the Senators and Representatives of California in Congress.

Adopted by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce February 13, 1934, at its regular monthly meeting.

W. H. Griffith, Secretary. F. F. Cassidy, President

Otto E. Schiffner and Fred Moses made a business trip to Placerville Wednesday.

Mrs. J. J. Staples and son of Spenceville were Nevada City visitors Wednesday.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND

Director, Physical and Health Education, State Department of Public Instruction

Ventilation and Health

Resistance to illness, particularly the diseases that affect the nose, throat and lungs, depend to a surprising degree upon proper heating and ventilation.

Scientific investigation shows that three factors must be attended to make the average home or schoolhouse a healthful place. These are temperature, moisture and the motion of the air.

Temperature—The good health standard is 65 to 68 degrees Fahrenheit. Cool air is invigorating. Overheated air produces lethargy, physical and mental depression and sluggishness.

Moisture—Sufficient moisture is present when fresh outdoor air is admitted to the room. Insufficient moisture in the air causes excessive drying of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat, especially if the air is overheated. This frequently renders the individual more susceptible to colds and other infectious diseases.

Motion—Circulation is necessary to prevent stagnation of hot moist air around the body. Unless circulation is otherwise provided for, keep one or more windows open to some extent at all times, but avoid direct drafts. Slow-moving currents are sufficient.

In his next article Dr. Ireland will tell what children should eat.

Jack A. Rondoni, who was so seriously injured at the Murchie mine recently, is making steady improvement, and will return to his Nevada City home from the Jones Memorial hospital in another week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fairchild of Yuba City were Nevada City visitors Monday and were looking for a business location.

Magnus Lund, for many years a resident of Downieville, arrived in this city yesterday from Loomis, enroute to his former home.
